It has been the practice in this District for the last eighty years to obtain an order of the Orphans' Court for this purpose, and this practice was never questioned until Judge Hagner came on the bench. The power is exercised under the Maryland act of 1798. The practice was suspended in Maryland by an act in 1818, which has no force in the District of Oclumbia. This decision sets at rest all who hold property by titles derived from the Orphans' Court. The case will be taken to the Suprame Court of the United States, but no suriety is felt as to the decision of that court, as it always upholds any interpretation of the local statute by practice long continued or by judicial decision which has become a rule in the community.

The Knights Suppress a strike.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—The Executive Board of District No. 1. Knights of Labor, this morning ordered 800 striking stove moulders to return to work at the rates in force previous to September 7, when the strike commenced. There was a stormy scene at the assembly's meeting. A number of prominent leaders of the strike were present and violently opposed the order of the board. Their opinions, however, were overruled, and the order went into effect. At the various stove foundaries in the city the strikers applied for work individuated ally and not as members of the Knights of Labor. Not more than half of them were taken back.

The superfluity of the prefix "Mr." before a man's name has seldom been shown in so startling a manner as it is at present in this city. On a large poster, is immense letters, and three separate lines, one almost blind can easily from a distance make out "Mr. Elwin Booth." The utter uselessness of the meaningless "Mr." occupying a full line, and in type as large as the name, is ridiculously apparent. Edwin Booth needs no "Mr." to bring him late prominence. new town two miles off. The people of that town, which ought to become a big town, for it has a good location and large resources back of and about it, have it in their power to remove forever the old reproach that San Luis is a "cow county," just as Los Angeles and all the southern tier of counties were called a few years ago. Will they do it?

A LARGE and growing party in this the blows of a stuffed club in the hands of a boy. Then how could he be expected to stand before sabre thrusts of a trained soldier?

The General Committee.

Far above the fern and moss,
Fluttering birch and wee fr cross,
And the pine's low muttering,
Where the frightened lichens cling
To the overhauging edge
Of the precipice and ledge,
Pearless in their dainty giee,
Wave the hairbells merrhy.

From their dusty rafters hung, Ne'er in Belgian telfrey rung Fells more exquisitely wrought By the mountain brease caught— Tossing, awaying to and fro— while beside them, bending low, Breathleasly I wait to hear Zeho of their chiming slear.

But the airy harmony
Is too wonderful for me,
And I cannot catch a strain
Of that rare and swo-t refrain.
Yet the tiny belts still ring,
And they shall my greeting bring
Till, though ne'er so softly stirred,
Every trempling note is heard.

Vandever.

National Tribune, Washington, D. 0.1

Gen. Vandever is one of the be known men in the Western army. He was a Congressman from Lows at the breaking out of the war, and resigned his seat to become Colones of the Nint Lows. He was soon promoted to Brigadier General, and subsequently to Major General, and was pronounced be his commanding officers to be one of the very best brigade and division commanders in the field. He is a highly cultivated gentleman, and deserved popular among all the people of Oalifornia. He is now 69 years of age, and in the prime of his bodity and mentapowers.

Noble also because it imagined that he must be aware of the fact that Bartlett had, under pressure it is true, bolted and voted for Booth. And now comes Mr. Bartlett with a whining apology what people were once foolish end spective nuts in mouth, swam out to meet him one by one. This was too much for mortal miser man. He left the band, and it then gradually declined, leaving behind it a ripple of talk even in New York, and sufficing now as a tale to tell over one's wine—of how much it cost one of New York's richest men to lose a peanut.

What people were one foolish enough to deem manliness on his part. He tries to make it appear that he only voted for Booth because he couldn't help himself, and by implication he charges that the Democratic party was so deficient in anti-monopoly material that it was impossible for him to find a Democrat for whom he could consistently vote for United States Sentary. Out on such ingglery! Mr. ator. Out on such jugglery! Mr. Bartlett knows he tells an untruth when he says he was not nominated and elected with the distinct under standing on the part of the people who supported the Dolly Varden ticket that he would vote for Booth if elected. Jim Taylor is accused of writing all the speeches delivered by his two brothers. Bob and Alf, who are running for Governor of Tennessee. He not only writes the speeches, it is said, but makes the brothers rehearse them in the barn before they leave home on their joint discussion tours. Jim onght to move to Washington and write speeches for Congress. He might settle the split on the tariff question in the Democratic party.

Santa Monica.

Oakland Times.

Ban Francisco and Ban Diego will soon have a rival port at Santa Monica, where the Atlantic and Pacific and other railroad companies propose to construct a land-looked harbor. Just what these companies will do with their harbor when they get it is not quite clear. Santa Monica is a splendid bathing resort, but as a harbor it has never been much favored by engineers.

Platform of the American Party

A DOPTED AT THE STATE CONVENTION
beld as Freezo, september 28, 1886.

1. We resterate and indorse the doctrines promulgated by the Executive Committee of the A cerican Pariy.

2. Belleving that Americans should rule America, we favor the education of American youths, boys and girls, as artisans and mechanics, to all the places of foreigners who now have near y the exolusive control of all the great industries of our country, save agriculture alone. of all the great industries of our country, save acriculture alone.

3. Boasisu in politics is the outgrowth of foreign influence. We condemn it and declare that the American Party has not, and shall not have boses.

4. The waters of the State belong to the lands they will irrigate; and we favor a broad and comprehensive system of trigation to the exclusion of the so-called rig ts of riparian and appropriation. A system controlled by the Government, free to all; under the control of no class of persons, and stabilished and maintained by a revenue derived from those only whom the system will benefit.

5. We believe in equal taxation, and to accompilish that desirable reform, we favor the reduction of taxes on the real estate of the cultivator of the soil, and the laying of additional burdens on the luxuries.

6. We would foster and encourage American the cultivator of the soil, and the laying of additional burdens on the luxuries.

8. We would foster and encourage American industries, and to that end would protect home productions and manufactures, and inaugurate and maintain a system that would not only exclude the cheap labor productions of other countries, but would also exclude the cheap laborers of all other countries, and prevent them from coming excitude the chesp laborers of all other countries, and prevent them from coming here to compete with Americans.

7. We believe that American free schools are indispensible supports to liberty; that reason and experience both teach us that national existence depends on the influence of liberal and refined education.

long been recognized as a most healthful and charming location for healthful homes, is at this time enjoying a season of great and unusual presperity.

The extension of our street railway system; the prospects of new and spacious bridges across the Los Angeles river; the low price of property here as compared with prices in other parts of the city, are signs of future prosperity, which have not been overlooked by either the speculator or the home-seeker. The consequence is that the inquiry and demand for real estate is greater than before in years.

for real estate is greater than before in years.

Bigns of improvement are apparent on every hand.

Every place of business is occupied, and several are in course of construction.

Mr. Harris is building a fine three-story building on Downey avenue, next to Clement & Gage's furniture store.

Mrs. Sett, late from Nevada, has purthased a ms next to the Bridges block, in which she will sconerect a large business house.

Mrs. Harward has lettle and many lates and many la

Mrs. Hayward has 'stely opened a fine millinery store in the Oreconta Block.

L. W. Mitchell, who has bought a large amount of real estate on this side reserved, has rented the fine brick store, sorner Hellman street and Downey avenue, and will sub-rent it for business purnue, and will sub-rent it for business purposes.

Judge' Page, who' has been visiting his old home in the far east during the past few weeks, returned a few days since, and will soon commence the erection of a fine residence near the foothills.

Frank La Strong, of the firm of La Strong & Pierce, is slowly recovering from a severe and dangerons illness.

this time is a spacious hotel. It would receive a large patronage as soon as completed. Next to a hotel is the demand for tenement houses. Scores are applying for houses daily, while everything is full to overflowing. A large amount of property is daily changing hands; many cottages are being built, and all indications are indicative of future growth and prosperity.

Statement of J. W. Broaded. Los Angeles, October 11. Mr. S. R. Beck of El Monte published which he stated that I had taken the which he stated that I had taken the benefit of the Bankrupt Act and had defrauded Mrs. Thurman. The statement is wholly untrue and is malicious. I never took advantage of any bankrupt act, but being in embarrassed circumstances, I made an assignment to Mr. Melzer for the benefit of my creditors, of whom Mrs. Thurman was one. Mr. Melzer managed to realize a sufficient sum to pay 80 cents on the dollar, and I afterwards settled the remaining 20 per cent by paying it in full. I handed Mrs. Thurman's balance to her in her own parlor, in the presence of her hus-

BARLEY—Feed. No. 1, 190c, bid; seller '26, 90c, per cent by paying it in full. I handed Mrs. Thurman's balance to her in her own parlor, in the presence of her husband. I understand that Mrs. Thurman says Melzer did not pay her. He had the money and was legally bound to payher, and she could have enforced payment. Mr. Melzer positively states, and I believe his statement, that he did pay Mrs. Thurman. The circumstance that she has remained quiet about the matter for eight or nine years is certainly enough to make one doubt her tale. Moreover, when I paid the balance to Mrs. Thurman she made no pretense of any further claim, but, on the contrary, stated that the payment settled the matter. Mr. Beck is in bad humor because his brother-in-law was deleated in the Democratic convention for the office of constable, and because his father-in-law—the present husband of Mrs. Thurman—was an unsuccessful aspirant for the office of justice of the peace before the same convention. Mosers, Lambourn, J. H. Gray, R. A.

The seguiar weekly report of the different city officials were read and referred to the respective committees.

officials were read and referred to the expective committees.

City Surveyor Eaton reported that State Engineer Hall had written to him that a price could not be set upon his proposed work of surveying the Orystal prings without a closer detail from the Oity Attorney. The matter was referred to the Committee on Zunja, which consists of Mesers Breed, Santee and Willard. Mr. Breed is absent in the East, and Councilman Jones is acting chairman during his absence, and Mr. Santes is seldom present in the Council. Mr. Jones and Mr. Willard will, therefore, wrestle with the question whether the water which flows from the Crystal springs is seepage water from the river or no, and possibly belongs to the city.

Nirect Superintendent Pike was allowed $763 for street work done during the past week.

The Committee on Sewers reported an expense of $33 during the past week.

A communication from Mayor Spence was read in reference to the remission of the fine of William Belton, who had since the proven to be insane. A letter was read size from Mrs. Mary Belton stating her destitute condition. Deputy Sheriff Darcy made a statement about Belton't usanity both prior and subsequent to the disc. The matter was referred to the Ommittee on Finance, which reported that $25 be given to Mr. Darcy for Mrs Belton.

THE MILITIA.

First, was packed to its fullest capacity for both entertainments, there being not less than six thousand people present. The performances, which were given in three rings, sometimes simultaneously and sometimes separately, were all that the heart of the average circus goer could desire. The clown's jokes possessed the requisite antiquity and the trick donkey and dogs were perfection itself. There was very fine performing on the trapeze, on the tight rope and on horseback. The bicycle riding and the tumbling was also drat class.
